Plenary presenter and chairperson profiles

Agnes Ronan

Bringing more than 10 years of public health experience, specialising in maternal, child and adolescent health, Agnes Ronan joined Paediatric-Adolescent  Treatment Africa (PATA) as Head of Programmes in January 2017. In this role, she is responsible for the overall management of all PATA programmes. Agnes previously held project management positions at the University of Cape Town's School of Public Health and Family Medicine and Department of Adolescent Health. Prior to that, she worked at the Desmond Tutu HIV Foundation, focusing on various clinical trials.

Dr Angela Mushavi

Dr Angela Mushavi is a senior paediatrician and the National PMTCT and Paediatric HIV Care and Treatment Coordinator in the Ministry of Health and Child Care, providing technical leadership and guidance for the expansion of PMTCT and Paediatric HIV and AIDS care and treatment programmes in Zimbabwe. Dr Mushavi also sits on the Steering Committee of the African Network for the Care of Children Affected by HIV (ANECCA).

Dr Anna Grimsrud

Anna Grimsrud, PhD, is the Lead Technical Advisor with the International AIDS Society leading the differentiated care initiative. Dr Grimsrud holds an MPH and PhD from the University of Cape Town and her research portfolio includes collaborations with IeDEA-Southern Africa Collaboration, Desmond Tutu HIV Foundation and Médecins Sans Frontières.

Blessings Banda

Blessings Banda is Executive Director of Beyond Our Hearts Foundation in Malawi and the Chief Executive Officer of the WeCare Youth Organisation. Blessings has worked in HIV programmes for 11 years and is currently pursuing a Master degree in Public Health. Blessings has also studied with Harvard University in Global Health Delivery, and has worked with various organisations over the years, namely Partners in Health, the Orphan and Widow AIDS Campaign, Concern Universal and the Ministry of Education in Malawi. He has supported the establishment of HIV and nutrition management systems across Malawi.

Dr Daniella Mark

Dr Daniella Mark is the Senior Technical Advisor for Paediatric-Adolescent  Treatment Africa (PATA). A neuropsychologist by training, she has a special interest in the intersection of HIV and mental health. She has produced more than 50 peer review publications and convention presentations in the areas of uptake and delivery of HIV prevention and treatment, with a specific focus on paediatric and adolescent services. Dr Mark was recognised in 2013 by the Mail and Guardian as one of South Africa's Top 200 Young South Africans and has contributed to global policy including the development of WHO guidelines. She is a member of several global and regional platforms, coalitions and working groups targeting improved HIV services for paediatric and adolescent populations, including co-chairing the IATT Child Survival Working Group. She is also a board member of the Positive Action for Children Fund (PACF).

David Altschuler

David is Chairman of the board of Trustees of the One to Once Children's Fund and has extensive experience in initiating and managing charity projects. He was founding chairman of the charity, Refusenik, and co-founded The One to One Children's Fund in 1997. David is also the co-founder of and chairman to the PATA Board of Directors. David, who qualified as a chartered accountant in South Africa, now lives in the UK where, until recently, he was a long-standing Trustee of the UK Family & Parenting Institute.

Dominic Kemps

Dominic Kemps is Director for the Positive Action for Children's Fund (PACF). Dominic began his career working in technology companies in Silicon Valley; an NGO in sexual and reproductive health in Washington DC; and in the public sector with the European Parliament in Luxembourg. In 2009, Dominic joined ViiV Healthcare, to launch and manage the Positive Action for Children Fund, ViiV's £50 million, 10-year commitment to support communities globally, seeking to address mother-to-child transmission of HIV.

Dr Elvin Geng

Dr Elvin Geng, MD, MPH, is Associate Professor of Medicine at the University of California at San Francisco (UCSF) in the Division of HIV, Infectious Diseases and Global Medicine. Dr Geng trained in clinical infectious diseases and epidemiology. His research uses the lens of implementation science to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of the public health response to the global HIV epidemic. Dr Geng's current projects address access to HIV treatment, quality of care and sustainability.

Dr Kanchana Suggu

Dr Kanchana Suggu is the Director for eMTCT and paediatric HIV programs, focusing on service delivery at the Clinton Health Access Initiative (CHAI). In this role, she works with CHAI country teams in Malawi, Uganda, Zambia, Zimbabwe and Lesotho to execute eMTCT and paediatric HIV programs. Prior to stepping into this role, Dr Suggu was the Deputy Country Director in CHAI's Liberia office, where she supported the Ministry of Health and Social Welfare to develop a national Accelerated Action Plan to Reduce Maternal and Neonatal Mortality, and establish health financing and family planning programs for CHAI in Liberia.

Kate Harrison

Kate Harrison joined Avert in September 2017 as head of programme funding. Kate has over 20 years' experience in health, HIV and international development. Before joining Avert, Kate worked at the Children's Investment Fund Foundation, managing the Accelerating Children's HIV Treatment (ACT) initiative, a public-private partnership with PEPFAR. This followed seven years working at Comic Relief, managing their health and HIV portfolio. Kate also worked at the International HIV/AIDS Alliance, as their senior technical advisor for children, and is the author of 'Building Hope' a guide for communities supporting children affected by HIV and AIDS.

Kelvin Makura

Kelvin Kudakwashe Makura is a passionate youth coordinator and advocate from Zimbabwe. Kelvin studied information technology at the University of Zimbabwe and is a champion wheelchair basketball player. Kelvin works with Zimbabwe Young Positives in collaboration with global and regional networks of YPLHIV (Y+ and AY+) where he coordinates activities across many adolescent-focused projects including P2Z, PITCH and READY+.

Laurie Gulaid

Laurie Gulaid serves as Senior Health Specialist (PMTCT and Paediatric HIV) for UNICEF's Eastern and Southern Africa Regional Office. She focuses on HIV in the first decade of life including the elimination agenda, integration of HIV and maternal and child health, community engagement and HIV in emergencies. Laurie joined UNICEF after 15 years as a senior-level consultant on HIV and maternal and child health, including for UNICEF, the United States Government (PEPFAR, USAID and CDC) and several international NGOs. Earlier in her career, Laurie worked as an M&E specialist with USAID in Ghana, as deputy director clinical services for TB control in New York City and on polio eradication in Nigeria and India.

Luann Hatane

Luann is Executive Director at Paediatric-Adolescent  Treatment Africa (PATA). A social worker by training, with a MPhil in development studies, she has over 20 years development practice experience, having worked for several health-related agencies and NGOs in Southern-East Africa. In the early days of the HIV epidemic, Luann coordinated client services at Triangle Project and later became Director to the National AIDS Convention of South Africa (NACOSA) where she remained for several years. Luann went on to coordinate HIV programmes at CARE International (South Africa, Lesotho and Swaziland). This was followed by her appointment as Country Director to Cross-Cultural Solutions, prior to her joining PATA in 2014. Luann's interest in the nexus of research, policy and practice is underpinned with a deep commitment to service quality on the frontline.

Lynette Mabote

Lynette Mabote is the Programmes Lead at the AIDS and Rights Alliance for Southern Africa (ARASA) – a partnership of 117 civil society organisations working on promoting rights-based responses to HIV, TB and SRH in 18 countries in Southern and East Africa. Leveraging on past experiences, she works with ARASA partners to strengthen their capacity to undertake innovative advocacy and promote enabling policy and legal environments, which ultimately prioritise just and human right-centric responses to prevention, treatment and care services. Lynette's motto in life is simple: To help shape strong, resilient and healthy Afro-conscious young people.

Dr Nandita Sugandhi

Dr Nandita Sugandhi is a paediatrician and recently joined ICAP as Product Introduction Coordinator for OPTIMIZE at Columbia University. After completing her training in New York, she spent four years working with the Baylor International Pediatric AIDS Initiative (BIPAI) in Swaziland, Botswana, Tanzania and India. From 2010 she worked with the Clinton Health Access Initiative (CHAI) as a Clinical Advisor to improve access to essential drugs and diagnostics for HIV Prevention and Treatment. Dr Sugandhi is also a practicing paediatrician providing HIV care to infants, children and youth at the Mount Sinai Medical Center in New York City.

Dr Nonhlanhla Dlamini

Dr Nonhlanhla Rose-Marie Dlamini is a registered paediatrician and is head of Child, Adolescent and School Health at the National Department of Health in South Africa. Her unit leads in national policy formulation and M&E in the areas of child, school and adolescent health, immunisation, child nutrition and paediatric HIV. Most recently, she has been instrumental in setting up the Human Papilloma Virus (HPV) vaccination programme, which uses school health as the service delivery platform. She has worked at all levels of the health system as well as in academia.

Noreen Huni

Noreen M Huni holds a Master's degree in Adult Education and a Health and Adult Education degree from the University of Zimbabwe and has over 25 years work experience. She is currently the Chief Executive Officer for the Regional Psychosocial Support Initiative (REPSSI), a 13-country regional NGO that aims to provide leadership, knowledge development and quality technical assistance in psychosocial support for children and youth affected by poverty, conflict, HIV & AIDS. Noreen is also the Deputy Chairperson for global The Coalition for Children Affected by HIV & AIDS (CCABA). She also leads an Early Childhood Development World Forum Foundation - Voices of Hope Project on Children and HIV & AIDS and is a coordinator of the ECD Global Leaders. Furthermore, she serves on the WHO Civil Society Reference Group on HIV & AIDS.

Dr Rebecca Hodes

Dr Rebecca Hodes is Director of the AIDS and Society Research Unit (ASRU) at the University of Cape Town and the author of Broadcasting the Pandemic: A History of HIV. She has authored many journal articles and book chapters in the field of public health and the history of medicine, with a focus on sexual and reproductive rights and the AIDS epidemic. Dr Hodes is the principal investigator of the Mzantsi Wakho study, focusing on the lived experiences of HIV-positive teenagers.

Dr Shaffiq Essajee

Dr Shaffiq Essajee recently joined UNICEF as Senior Advisor within its HIV program. Prior to this he led PMTCT work at WHO and remains a member of the Pediatric Infectious Disease Faculty at New York University where he has been caring for children with HIV for 20 years. He hails originally from Kenya and in 2001 established one of the first dedicated paediatric HIV clinics in the region in his hometown of Mombasa. He is a graduate of the Oxford University Medical School, and completed his residency in paediatrics at the University of California, San Francisco before joining the Paediatric Infectious Disease Division at NYU. Before joining WHO, Dr Essajee was the Senior Medical Advisor for the Clinton Health Access Initiative.

Dr Stephanie Thomas

Dr Stephanie Thomas is the founder and Director of Zoë-Life, a South African Capacity building and Development Organisation committed to pushing the boundaries to ensure better life opportunities for children, youth and their families. Zoë-Life has innovated the Kidz-Alive model, which is used in health facilities and communities to support testing, disclosure and treatment of children living with HIV, TB, GBV and Diabetes. In addition to her work with Zoë-Life, Dr Thomas served on the board of iThemba Lethu for 15 years, currently serves on the board of WWSOSA and is a member of the South African Relational Metrics Associates, providing technical support within Clinical and NPO environments around Relational Leadership.

Dr Thameshree Naidu

Dr Thameshree Naidu is a public health medicine specialist currently leading the technical component of a multi-partner collaborative (Unfinished Business), aiming to accelerate the achievement of the 90-90-90 targets for paediatric and adolescent HIV in KwaZulu Natal, South Africa. After graduating from the University of Cape Town, Dr Naidu worked for 10 years as a clinician and clinical manager rotating through many health facilities from primary health care to tertiary level institutions in South Africa and the UK. The system challenges that she and others experienced daily as frontline healthcare workers, and their lack of key skills to address these, prompted Dr Naidu to study further and transition to Public Health.

Paediatric – Adolescent  Treatment Africa

PATA believes in the principle of developing sustainable interventions that are receptive to global guidance, linked to national strategic plans, informed by people living with HIV and undertaken in collaboration with local communities. PATA works to extend the quality of service delivery on the frontlines of paediatric and adolescent HIV prevention, treatment, care and support. Health facilities within the PATA Network are encouraged to reach out to neighbouring facilities and local partners to expand the 'PATA Network' and extend the 'PATA effect' through peer-to-peer and south-to-south learning and exchange.
